

AMERICAN FARM BUREAU
FOUNDATION FOR AGRICULTURE

Ag Education Activity Sheet

Introduction

Goodnight Tractor by Michelle Robinson is an adorable rhyming bedtime story that follows a little boy's imagination as he says "goodnight" to things around the farm. This fun activity allows young readers and their parents to use their imagination to take learning further.

Counting Sheep Before Sleep(ing) Activity

Does your child have trouble going to sleep? Sometimes people who have trouble going to sleep like to count sheep. However, there are more than just sheep mentioned in Goodnight Tractor. Look at the picture here and the illustrations in the story. Have your student/child answer the questions below.

1. Can you find sheep in this picture? How many do you see?
2. How many dogs do you see?
3. Where is the donkey?
4. Are there more sheep or chickens?

